the Democrats, and maily winding up by stating that the Speaker of the House had no aympathy for legislation to protect Southers loyalists, but had used his best efforts to force land-grants and other jobs through this House.

Name them, said Mr. Blaine.

I can't name one, but all of them.

It is a base calumny, said the Spoaker; it is wholly false.

Builer went on to speak of this diagraeful scene, sai said it had been his deaire to keep it out-of Congress by putting his letter in the newspapers. He thought, as Blaine had been a member of the press-gang, that he should have done the same, and not spoken from a wooden seas through a wooden head. Four other Republicans, who had been appointed on the committee, severally arose and asked to be excussed, and the House excused them; and then, and ta general scene of excitement, the House adjourned.

While all this was going on, the Republican Seastors in the other end of the capitol were deciding in favor of Butler's Kuklux bill, and that there should be a session of Congress to consider it. So the irrepressable conflict between the Republicans on this question flict between the Republicans on this question is fairly inaugurated.

The President intended to a gard the Brastlian mission to Missouri, if a candidate of sufficient strength could be presented. Accordingly, the friends of Ben Logan telegraphed him, by authority, to sacertain his acceptance, if tendered, but he promptly declined. Governor McCingr likewise forestailed settlon in the premises by greising to allow his name to be used in that direction. Ex-Congressman Stover, however, strongly indoreed for that position, is willing to accept, but, unfortunately, the President doesn't deem him possessed of a national reputation.

MR. Late, proprietor of the Westliche Postla in town, stopping with his business partner, Senator Schurz. In a conversation on Missouri politics he deprecated the recent unification of the liberals with the McCingrerular Endécais, and apprehends a Democratic triumph at the enseing municipal election in St. Louis.

THE CUBAN SENSATION.

The President has informed Gen. Banks that the story of the offer of Sonis to sell Cuba to the United States is an old one of more than a year's date, and that all that has transpired new in it of late is an intimation that they will take one hundred millions in gold for the stained. The subject does not engage much of the attention of the administration, as the President looks upon the price as altogether unworthy of consideration.

COAL ALB SALT.

In the Senate caneus to-day Mr. Trumbull made an effort to have the party agree to rote on the House bill for free coal and free salt, and not have the action excluded by the decision to remain and legislate wholly on the Kukhur bill. Mr. Morrill, of Vermont, sald that these efforts of Republicans to meddie with the tariff were doing the party more injury than all the Democrate assanis put together. The proposition was lost, and coal and salt go over to next assatou.

The House Commissioner Douglass is spoken the proposition was lost, and coal and election cases till the next seasion of Congress.

The Two Extremes.

Doubtless the original slave-owners of New England, who jound slave labor unprofitable and who in consequence of the discovery carried their slaves South and sold them, not forgetting to put the mosey in their pockets, looked upon the institution of slavery with a very matter-of-fact and complacent eye, But the generation that came after them produced in its turn a generation which made some progress in the new creed of freedom that began to be organized only when the last darky had brought his market price and there was no longer anything to be gained out of that sort of thing cither as a material or moral investment. The fourth set of moral investment. The fourth set of patriots, quite unmindful of the source of much of their wealth, grew intolerant, and during five-and-twenty years there has been but one sentiment and opinion on the subject in all the territory washed by the Kennebec, the Penobscot and the Con-

The people of the South who bought the slaves of their New England brethren and paid the money for them found the instiand, very naturally, they stuck to it, and, as it was just so much property, they tought for it. So long as it existed, and so long as the free-soil ideas of New Engso long as the free-soil ideas of New Eng-land existed, there could be no peace be-tween the two acctions. Mr. Szward was right. The conflict was irrepressible. But, with this bone of contention dropped out, what is there to prevent a realliance between New England and the South, an alliance based on reciprocal interests, an alliance such as that which produced such Democrats as FRANK PIRRCE and SEY-Hampshire a rock-bound and apparently an impregnable citadel of Democracy?

The manufacturing interests of New England are in serious danger. The Democratic party can give them no protection. But the South can give them what is better—a shelter and a fresh start right on the edge of the cotton-patch. The great manufacturers must pick themselves up and move into the South, establish branches of their business and create a new system that will not need any high tariff to uphold it

In this way the South and New Engand, having exhausted the negro question, may be brought together on an overshad-owing question of domestic economy; and, having thus come together, they will find the master prefetche aggred on the politic themselves perfectly agreed on the political question of State rights, the restora-tion of which is the sole hope of safety alike for both. The Democratic parly can produce this reconciliation. The Republican party cannot. The whole South is enthusiastic over the result in New Hampshire. What is the meaning of this? Does it imply a difference that is deep-rooted and everlas ing? Is it a sign of that spirit between the not show that there is a sense of affinity, a ing an alliance with a class that can only be held up to political equality by the bayonet—the Radicals confess themselves unable and unwilling to restore the Union.

sent ruling and congenial elem sections, and their ascendancy is the com plete restoration of the Union, without revolution or agrarianism.

As for the negro, he should and will be treated like a man. He has now all that a way like other people who come into the world without position and without money. No one is going to oppress the negro if public opinion be left free to de-cide the matter as other domestic matters are decided. Being free, a citizen and a voter, he will have to take care of himself and if he is thrifty, inc there need be no lear of his future, and he will have plenty of friends to protect him if he needs any special protection. On principles of justice to all men all sound policy reposes, and, with the best men in the South in power, the domestic policy of the country will be at least as sound as ections are alike, and there runs through each a sentiment of fair play that amounts to an instinct and is pretty sure to do about what is right.

The Pittsburg Commercial is over-serious with one of our harmless jokes on CHARLES SUMNER. We did not intend to the world of shadows. In speaking of Mr. SUMNER we have spoken without malice seeking to sketch the man as he really is— a magnificent humbug. No one who has any personal knowledge of the Massachusetts Senator will pre to set him up as a scholar, even at a medi ocre valuation, taking no higher standard than that of Harvard. The groundlings, who know nothing and are dinned by noise and dazzled by gabble, may and doubtless do think that he knows much; and, besides, it is a cheap and convenient concession to say of a person, from whom all else is denied, that he is a scholar. But has the gift of the gab; a sonorous voice; a brow-beating style; and a certain talent joined to prodigious industry at cram-ming. But this is about the whole of him.

Did ever any one read a speech of SUM-NER's all the way through? He has been a noisy declaimer for twenty years. What has he produced that is truly eloquent or purely rhetorical? There is not a single noy the instructed. His friends chaim pe-cuniary integrity for him. Of this we know nothing. It is perhaps wrong to consider every surly dog a sheep-killer. Mr. Sun-nen may be honest. But his general conthat we have no desire to recall, howbest we have no dread of, the memory of Pansron Brooks. He was a weak, a generous,'s passionate, a most misorinate man. He perpetrated an error, and—as far as it was an invasion of the place that ought to be sacred—a crime. But out of that error and out of that errors and out of that errors and out of that erring Mr. Sumnum has risen and flourished. It isld the sure joundation of his tortunes. He would not be what he is to-day but for the circumstance, and he it caused him but a lew weeks of nervous disturbance and no serious physical injury. As doubtless regards it as the luckiest event of his hie.

Tolerance in New Engined.
Toward the close of the just ended canross in New Hampshire a great outer was raised because the Democratic State Committee awarded the printing of election tickets to an establishment would and managed by one whom the New York Tribune described as "a Considerate officer and an unrepentant rebel." There was a deal of lamentation among the Republicans that the job had not been given a loyal Democrat. But the thought that it had been given to "an unrepentant rebel" was so revolting that they throw themselves back on their hind-lega and fairly healed. The was they howed was both. selves back on their hind-lega and fairly howled. The way they howled was both senseless and clamorous; but the howling was expected to create a dreadful style of echo among the granite hills, and to serve a godly turn. The result shows that the people of New Hampshire are not the donkeys the Radical managers took them to be. It shows also that the people of the North are grown weary, if they are not disgusted, with the incessant and wretched cant about a loyalty that is disgraced only by those who barade it as women of doubt-

We know nothing of the case in point except what we have read in the newspa-pers. There were in the Confederate service here and there several New Eng landers, and they made very good soldier and were very good tellows. One of thes doubtless went home after the war and got doubtess weak nome after the war and go into the printing business. That he has prospered is proof that he deserved well of his fellow-men; for in selecting New Hampshire as a place to begin life over he hit upon a field that must have looked somewhat unpromising for an "unrepent-ant rebel" five years ago. That he is a Democrat is proof that he is an honest man, for had he been a thrity rascal he would have forceworn his rebelism and compounded with the prejudice of the day by becoming a noisy apostate. Without knowing anything about him—not so much as his name—we take it that he is a much as his name—we take it that he is a worthy man and a smart printer, who does his work in first-rate style and at cheap rates. The Democratic State Committee doubtless selected him because, all things being even, he took the job at a lower being even, he took the job at a lower figure than his business competitors, and, in doing this, despite the twaddle about "disloyalty" and "rebels," they displayed the courage of sound sense, which has been properly indorsed and rewarded at the ballot-box.

The meaning of 11 is, so far as the cur-cumstance has a presping, that the people cumstance has a meaning, that the people of New Hampshire ask no other test of a man than that which relates to citizenship and character, ignoring the demands of a Radicalism which bases its exactions on shams. In the South there is an equally healthful tone to be found. In many re gions the most popular men are Northern soldiers and officers, who have signified patriousm, ag it is the sort of wisdom, th country needs, and it is conspicuously and forcibly illustrated by this example of tol erance that comes to us out of the depth of New England.

not show that there is a sense of affinity, a feeling of homogeneity sufficient for all essential purposes, in the minds and hearts of the people, which needs only to be cultivated to bloom into a gorgeous and over spreading nationalism? This nationalism of love the Republicans seek to break down by the nationality of force. By discarding the virtue and intelligence of the South—by ignoring except to oppress the real manhood of the South—and by forming an allismee with a class that can only Louisiana for lack of neatness. And that at least some of the Georgia editors know how to retire from and to re enter the prolession with extraordinary grace let these cards, from a late number of the Atlanti

Intelligencer, tensar, angels, trumpet-tongued:"

A CARD TO THE FUBLIC.

My connection with the intelligencer ceases with this issue, and Governor Samuel Bard takes charge of the same.

JARED IRWIN WHITAKER. A CARD TO THE PUBLIC.
In assuming the management of the intelligencer, isball discharge my duty to the public fearlessly and without regard to consequences.

81M. BARD.

What more was it necessary for either Judge WHITAKER or Dr. BARD to say? Not a word more. In point of brevity, which is as often the soul of sense as of wit, each of these cards is a model, and if they were universally adopted as such by in-coming and outgoing editors, the world of newspaper readers would have good cause to be thankful. It is true Judge WHITAken might, with much propriety, have said that Dr. Band "takes charge," not of "my connection with the Intelligencer," but of the Intelligencer itself, and Dr. Band might have said, with equal propriety, that he would discharge his duty to the public fearlessly and without regard to consciousness, not mercally in the consequences, not merely in the act of assuming the management of the Intelligencer, but afterward as well; but when an editor, in the hubbub and excitement of an imporant business change, undertakes to boil down a column or two of "salutatory" or "valedictory" to three or four lines, it is hardly to be expected that he will wreak his soul upon that grammatical accuracy of expression which a grammarless public ands of every writer for the press. I the length of these cards should be adopted by newspaper men in this country as the standard to be observed under like cir-cumstances—and heaven send that it may be—then, Messrs. Whitaker and Bard may well feel that they have not lived and labored in vain.

BOUTWELL is right, after all, in no leaving the public debt for posterity to pay; for if Radicalism continues to rob us ch longer, we shall leave posterity noth ing to pay with.

Deputies Control of the Control o tion against the minsma which frequently produces, and always aggravate them, it was formerly the precite to give violent catherities as "spring medicines," nor is the outlom yet entirely obsolete. Nothing, however, can be more ill leaged and unphilosophical. The chilling moisture with which the air is loaded at the breaking up of winter presess heavily upon the vital forces of the body, and relafe cement, not depletion, is what it requires. The Bitters is a genial and excellent lonic, a moderate atterative, and just enough of an aperiant to regulate, without convulsing, the bowels. It is, therefore, a specific peculiarly adapted to the present season.

THE PROTECTION OF STOCK.

Last season as hill based the Senate provading that when stock is killed or fujured by railroads the owner, on giving notice to the nearest station agent, should have the damages appraised, on applying to the nearest instice of the peace, by three appraisers; and that in case the company failed to pay within ninety days sunt might be instituted, when, if successful, the amount, together with fifty per cent. thereon and costs, would be recoverable against the company. The bill further provided that where railroads were fenced in successful, the amount, together with fifty per cent. thereon and costs, would be recovered for stock killed or injured. This measure has been concurred in by the House, so amended, however, as to reduce the fifty per cent. damages to twenty-five, and to provide that in case parties are unsuccessful in their suits, only half the costs shall be defrayed by railroad companies.

FINAL PROBLEM. A

In 1800 a gay and leavire anylor was exceed from an Illinois district to the Horiso of Representatives. While there he became d'stinguished rather for his social qualities, his downright wickedness, and his stylish dress than for any marked stjention to his duties. So loud became goesip that a cousin of his wife, who resided in Washington, wrote down to her quiet relative, severely unconscious in the country, of her husband's exceptades in Washington. The letter recounted the quiet decks and the evil-reputation of her spound. Of course the wife stood one upon the order of her going, and reached the capital just in time to catch her husband recovering from the combined efficies of a druking boat and a gambling spree. She slung some verbal petholics at his aching skall, and he relorted with missiles of the same kind. But this was no novelty.

Another Blare from Wendell Phillips.

Wendell Phillips, in this week's National Standard, pays had compilments to President Grant, as follows:

"A blow sometimes at me a drunkard into sobriety. Possibly the insult offered and the peril brought to the Republican party by the removal of Mr. Summer may have this effect on the nation. We may see the loyal mea of the North rally for the defense of the Union. If not, then there is but one thing more for Congress to do in order to sign the death warrant of the Republican party. Let Congress now adjourn, without authorizing marital law at the South to curb the Kukluk, and they have a saured the election of a Democrat to the Freedence. These different period of the Congress now adjourn, without authorizing marital law at the South to curb the Kukluk, and they have assured the election of a Democrat to the Freedence. These different period collar on sensionial necks shows that they belong to a man who has entered on the course where Andrew Johnson perished. Every man knows-that each Senator who voted for summer's removal did also solely because the President had let him understand that only on that condition could he hope to have any influence at the Departments in securing office for his friends. The President has bought off his opponents by refusing all winter to listen in the matter of appointments to the recommendations of any Betrayed Chaptes who voted with Sumer must raily or achieves of our time. The president has been the security of the commendations of any Betrayed Chaptes of the president may be impossible. But our effort must go deeper than that. We must teach the people that if ever secession rears its head again escenarical by a rebel President, we will gree rebellion no raice but the sword, until every now living white man is in his grave."

The stockholders of the New Hotel Commany heid a meeting in the reception room of the United States Hotel yesterday afternoon for the pulpose of electing a Board of Directors.
Judge R. H. Fields was called to the chair and Col. J. C. Johtston was elected Secretary.
The Chairman stated that it had been deemed advisable to organize the Company under an old charter granted to Hon. James Guibrie, deceased, and others in 1857, a majority of whom survived. The charter provided that the same persons therein named as incorporators should constitute the first board of directors, one of whom should be president;
and that they should remain in office until signteen months after the passage of the charter.
The chairman stated that that limit had expired
several years ago, and that it was now the prov-

I am gind that he Honor is present, Whyle II see destrain that the Kapor he authorised to mojify this contract? Will some impairs of the Board to Honor to the sentiments of the Board to Honor to the sentiment that he prediction was not written by the City Attorney; and assed the ciert of Bo I dendided the handwriting of the City. Alsorney is the document, to which the electric replied that he didloo to want, said Mr. German, to birt any responsibility, personal or otherwise, Bull I subservate to say that the City Attorney did this writing.
Mr. Orrill Interfered, saying he spoke only of his interview with the Mayor.

[Tee, you spoke of this also, which I will answer.]
If the Honor the Mayor suscented the resolution to me in the pice sense of the failured committee, to the gentleman is a woon and I am correct, and I shall make no sustement that I cannot substantials. I voted for the original resolution as it passed the Board, but the Board of Aldermen, the City Attorney and the Mayor have looked over than thought on the Mayor have looked over that the lateract of the clips of the Honor than the Interest of the clips of Loudville, or we would not report that there, and by this contract we will have to say upon the question.

Mr. Verhoef thought there was a fear that the relived companies might get some legal technications against the ciry, and therefore he offered a provise to the effect that nothing in the resolution should use life or multiple and companies. For the provise was not adopted.

Mr. Smith desired to see the interests of the city well cared for. It is not often, said be, that you get a railroad company in your grasp. When they get you they hold you, they do not propose to give the city of Lonisville 250,000 without expecting something in return. They are not so lavish with their earnings as that.

He said he was not very familiar with the contact between the city and the railroad companies, but he hoped it would not be modified. Which one is gained another succeeds it, and snother and another a uncessed it, and snother and another and snother succeeds it, and snother and another in the source of the city of the country in the companies. The companies is the content of the companies of the city of the city of the country in the companies. The companies is the companies of the city of Louisville without something coming back to the bands that gave it. It is not necessary to dwell upon the extent of the monepoly of railroads in this country, but in a few moments it could show that if it contents and the country.

something coming back to the bands that gave it. It is not necessary to dwell upon the extent of the monopoly of railroads in this country, but in a few moments is could show that if it continues a few years longer railroads will govern this country, instead of the country controlling them. The Fennsylvania Central is the strongett in the world, and the New York Central, if it gains its permanent leases, will control nee thousand miles of road and more than three hundred millions of dollars. Place all these-roads together and they represent two thousand millions of dollars, which is equal to the entire debt of the United States. You see what power the railroads gain in this way. They make contracts which as first seem perfect and beautiful, but modifications come in one after another suff like her than the companies had asked for the right of way across Broadway, which had been granied them. They were now early fing the privilege and asked no relief. It was propored, that for this consideration they should build a bridge there if demanded by the city. The result of the later's visit to Cabral Is looked forward to with great interest.

PORT AU PRINCE, HAYTI, March 7.—The Commission reached here on the 2d of March from Azua, all in axcellent health. They will wait here for Commissioner White, who went overland from Santo Domingo to Puerto Plats. He is expected in the steamer Nan-tasket by the 10th inst., bringing with him two scientific expeditions, under Profs. Blake and Ward, that crossed before him.

The Tennessee will then start immediately or home, touching st Santlago de Cuba and ey West for coal, The questions of debt and disputed boun lary are the most important raised since the ons of debt and disputed bounast dispatches.

The Haytiens are bitterly opposed to annexation. The Commissioners, however, were received civilly. Cabral's strength consists almost wholly of Haytien supports.

The information that the Tennessee had been reported mission first reached the party here. The statement of General Banks that she is unseaworthy was received with great indignation, and denounced as heartlessly cruel. She is one of the strongest and best ships in the navy, with a select company of efficient officers. We expect now, unless delayed by the Nantucket, to reach some by the 25th of March, or at the farthest by the 1st of April. A delay of one week from this cause is possible, and If the ship is not heard from for two weeks, it should not cause anxiety. The mall from the Commission leaves for New York to-day, the 7th, by the steamer Port an Prince.

Mr. Waste is preparing a short preliminary report, which he hopes to get off for the steamer: this evening. He has also sent a short letter to the Presideut.

Mr. Howe had arranged for a pretty thorcugh exploration of this section of Hayth, but Mr. Wade insisted there was no authority for it, and it should not be done.

The second day after our arrival here, Mesers. Wade and Howe called, by previous agreement, upon the President and his Cabinet. The meeting had no reference to annexation. All the members of the Cabinet were present. Upon being presented Mr. Wade said: "Mr. President—We are commissioners of the United States charged with the duty of making certain inquiries touch-duty of making certain inquiries touch-REEN & GREEN, 130 Main, near th
